Juried Signature Member of Pastel Society of America

The month of February has been a very exciting month for me! I have been juried a Signature Member of the Pastel Society of America. I am deeply honored and proud to receive the distinction. I have been painting for more than twenty-five years and I have been honored with over four dozen awards, but this is the ultimate prize in my career to date!

The Pastel Society of America (PSA) is the oldest, most important Society in America. PSA is largely responsible for the current renaissance of pastels in American art. The Society's outstanding annual exhibitions at The National Arts Club in New York are the premier event for pastel artists in this country and abroad. The Society's name is synonymous with excellence. They are the undisputed leader in the medium.

All artists are juried for membership in the Society. Those meeting the standards of professional excellence set by the Jury of Admissions are elected to Signature Artist Membership. Signature Artist members are privileged to use the PSA initials after their name, a meaningful designation in the art community and for potential art buyers.

First Full Color Catalog

I am pleased to announce Carol Santora: The Color of Cows, my first art publication! The catalog celebrates cows and is illustrated with forty full color images. Carol Santora: The Color of Cows will be available March 1. Please call or email for more information!

“When I saw Carol’s extensive collection of Holsteins, Herefords, Guernseys, Scottish Highlanders, and Black Angus, I honestly thought her pictorial observations—facial expressions and stances—simply brilliant and delightful... Her love of animals—even their humor—is unmistakably apparent on each page of Carol Santora: The Color of Cows.”

~ George A. Douglas, former editor of the Boston Post
